

the Homesteader

produced by Softegrity, LLC

p: 620.493.4956 f: 620.493.3032 solutions@coloransas.com www.homesteadernewsletter.com

Subscription Order Form

Ship to:

Name:

Address:

City/State/Zip:

email address:

phone number (required for subscription purposes only; email addresses change often):

How did you hear about the Homesteader? _____

---

Please check your choice (subscription will begin with the current issue):

- One-year subscription: $10 (includes shipping + tax)
- Two-year subscription: $18 (includes shipping + tax)
- Three-year subscription: $25 (includes shipping + tax)

To order single issues or multi-packs, circle your choice (all prices include shipping and tax):

Summer 2002 ($4.50)	Winter 2002-2003 ($5.50)
Summer 2003 ($5.50)	Winter 2003-2004 ($5.50)
Summer 2004 ($5.50)	Winter 2004-2005 ($5.50)
Summer 2005 ($5.50)	Winter 2005-2006 ($5.50)
Pack of first four issues ($16.50)	Pack of first six issues ($25.50)

Please make payment to Softegrity, LLC and mail with this order form to: Softegrity LLC, 11958 South Road W, Manter, KS 67862

We sincerely appreciate your support!

Continue to next page for details on the issues.

the Homesteader

produced by SoTeegrity, LLC

p: 620.493.4956 f: 620.493.3032 solutions@coloransas.com www.homesteadernewsletter.com

Issue Details:

Summer 2002 (volume 1, issue 1) $4.50 includes shipping and tax advice on how to avoid eBay scams on LIW merchandise; a news story recounting a conference on current, brand-new LIW research from a conference held in DeSmet in 2001; a feature on Walnut Grove; an extensive look at Ingalls Homestead, Laura's newest "homesite" in DeSmet, and an interview with its owners, the Sullivan family

Winter 2002-2003 (volume 1, issue 2) $5.50 includes shipping and tax an interview with the man who plays Pa's fiddle at events in Mansfield, Missouri; groundbreaking research on Mary Power; a look at the latest grant-funded changes to the Independence, Kansas homesite; how one Laura fan tracked down a log building in Colorado that was dedicated to and named after Rose Wilder Lane

Summer 2003 (volume 2, issue 1) $5.50 includes shipping and tax
In-depth look at Little House Site Tours; feature on June Silliman, "Dear Laura" on the Web site for the Herbert Hoover Presidential Library-Museum; review of the compendium of letters between Rose Wilder Lane and Dorothy Thompson, 25 Years of Friendship; update on Burr Oak, IA's fundraising

Winter 2003-2004 (volume 2, issue 2) $5.50 includes shipping and tax
Feature plus compelling photos of the Almanzo Wilder Farm; an in-depth look at the South Dakota tornadoes in the 1880s that lend credence to the storms in These Happy Golden Years; a synopsis of Ingalls Homestead's first "Teachers' Day"; review of Old Town in the Green Groves, a controversial "new" book about Laura's years in Burr Oak, IA; FAQs on Laura's manuscript "Pioneer Girl"

Summer 2004 (volume 3, issue 1) $5.50 includes shipping and tax
A historical look at the grasshopper plagues of the 1870s Midwest that Laura recounted in On the Banks of Plum Creek; an interview with renowned LIW biographer William T. Anderson; an LIW children's entertainer shares her experiences performing with a real pig's bladder; the history of an annual Gingerbread Sociable in LIW's honor at a library in California; a review of Prairie Girl, Anderson's new juvenile biography on LIW; farewell to Burr Oak, Iowa's longtime director

Winter 2004-2005 (volume 3, issue 2) $5.50 includes shipping and tax
A factual look at the "Hard Winter" of 1880-1881, as part of our continuing series on Laura's life in a historical context; photographs and description of a pre-restoration visit to the Wilder home in Malone; a feature on Laura's visit to San Francisco (told about in West from Home); a heartwarming story of organ donation at a homesite museum; Cap Garland -- did he really save DeSmet?; a look at Walnut Grove's 30th Anniversary Celebration

Summer 2005 (volume 4, issue 1) $5.50 includes shipping and tax
A Laura fan in the medical field investigates the cause of Mary's blindness; full-color pictures of the annual June festival in Independence; a review of "Laura Ingalls Wilder's Little House on the Prairie," ABC's 2005 miniseries; the story behind the bra named after LIW, plus a photo; information on subscribing to homesite museum newsletters, plus how to become a member; review of The Children's Blizzard, a book about 1880s blizzards in South Dakota and surrounding areas; tracking down the bell Pa helped to buy in On the Banks of Plum Creek; and complete listings of 2005's homesite events.

the Homesteader

produced by Soltegrity, LLC

---

p: 620.493.4956 f: 620.493.3032 solutions@coloransas.com www.homesteadernewsletter.com

Winter 2005-2006

(volume 4, issue 2)

$5.50 includes shipping and tax

Uncle Tom Quiner's journey into the Black Hills is revisited using non-Little House sources, and the resulting article contains a newly discovered photo of Uncle Tom; musicologist Dale Cockrell tells how "Happy Land," essentially a soundtrack to the Little House books, came to be; a Laura fan and essayist ponders her life in terms of what Ma Ingalls would do; "Little House" mentions by Lemony Snicket; an interview with The Wilders, a contemporary old-time acoustic band that plays songs from Laura's time; a review of De Smet's Laura-related event from Summer 2005; and complete listings of homesite events.